

J. R. Statist. Soc. A (2017)
180, Part 4, p. 1319

Corrigendum: Florence Nightingale, statistics and the Crimean War

Lynn McDonald

University of Guelph, Canada

[J. R. Statist. Soc. A, 177 (2014), 569–586]

Some of the column headings in Table 4 on page 578 are incorrect. Table 4 should read as follows.

Table 4 Crimean War death rates by hospital†

Hospital	Period	Deaths‡	Admissions§	Rate per admissions (%)
Scutari	June 1854–June 1856	4923	41325	11.9
Koulali	February 1855–June 1855	509	1963	25.9
Varna	June 1854–January 1855	374	2846	13.1
Balaclava	October 1854–June 1856	438	5686	7.7
Castle	March 1855–June 1856	96	2554	3.8
Camp	April 1855–June 1856	204	1083	18.8
Monastery	July 1855–June 1856	28	911	3.1
Abydos	September 1854–September 1855	82	814	10.1
Smyrna	February 1855–November 1856	154	1887	8.2
Renkioi	October 1855–June 1856	50	1330	3.8

†From Nightingale (1859b), page 25.

‡Mean of weekly numbers remaining in hospital.

§Mean of admissions and discharges, including deaths.

Address for correspondence: Lynn McDonald, Department of Sociology, University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, N1G 2W1, Canada.

E-mail: lynnmcd@uoguelph.ca